SALMON FROM MAINE THRIVE IN TASMANIA; MORE ARE REQUESTED

By the Associated Press.
AUGUSTA, Me., January 27.—Land-locked salmon from Maine are thriving in Tasmania. It is shown in reports just received by state officials. Salmon eggs were shipped to Tasmania from Maine hatcheries in 1910 and 1915 and a further shipment has been requested. Tasmania officials report that the fish propagated from the previous shipments have done well, but owing to two very dry seasons the fish were unable to reach their spawning beds until after the season. As there was thus no prospect of natural reproduction, the Maine government was asked to send about 25,000 eggs. It will be impossible to comply this year with the request of Tasmania, officials explain, as the vessel on which the shipment should have been made sailed from Vancouver, B. C., March 17, and none of the eggs in the state hatcheries can be kept in the "keyed state" required for transportation such a distance.

CHICAGO, January 27.—Fire seriously damaged the Devon avenue car barn of the Chicago surface lines here yesterday, destroyed 100 street cars and forced fifty families living nearby in cottages to the streets scantly clad. Wellington Fish, general manager of the surface lines, said the loss would be approximately $1,500,000. Gasoline stored in the barn caused numerous explosions, but no one was injured.

INTERNAL FAILURE OF U. S. SCOUTED

Senator Robinson Decries, However, Making of Thousands of Laws.

By the Associated Press.
AKRON, Ohio, January 27.—If the United States government ever fails, the calamity is less likely to result from external attack than from the decadence of the institutions which constitute its foundation—liberty, law, order, justice—United States Senator Joe T. Robinson of Arkansas, said in an address today before the Ohio State Bar Association. Speaking on the necessity for application of sound principles in law-making and law-enforcement, Senator Robinson decry the practice of making thousands of laws, said that the Dyer anti-lynching bill was unnecessary and would fail to curb lynchings, that it was of prime importance to enforce the prohibition amendment and maintain the law, the remedy for strikes cannot be found in laws compelling workmen to continue their labors. "A failure widespread and universal exists," he said, "that legislation is the logical remedy for every wrong inflicted and for every right impaired. It is said that more than 16,000 distinct statutes are in force in the United States. There is need for greater caution and more deliberate consideration in the enactment of such additional statutes. Referring to the anti-lynching bill, Senator Robinson pointed out that no violence is criminal in every state.

FEW BABIES TO ADOPT UNDER DRY LAW AND WOMEN'S NEW RIGHTS

CHICAGO, January 27.—Prohibition, "by improving conditions in the lower-class homes," and what he termed the "independent attitude of modern women," have resulted in such a scarcity of dependent babies for adoption that the demand for infants to be adopted, C. C. Carstens of New York, director of the organization, said in an address at the league's mid-western conference. "If you want a baby for adoption, get one now, for soon you won't be able to," declared Mr. Carstens. "There are fewer babies being born in the better class homes because of the independent attitude of modern women. After a girl has been married a while, however, she realizes that there is something missing in her home. Then she turns to adoption, as the easiest way out, but finds that prohibition has so decreased the number of dependent babies by improving conditions in the lower-class homes that the demand far exceeds the supply."

"EFFORT TO SAVE FAMILY NAME," IS BANKERS' PLEA

Amy Brothers Surrender Voluntarily and Petition New York's Surrogate.

NEW YORK, January 27.—Declaring that they had acted wrongly "in a frenzied and illegal effort to save the honor of the old family name" when they used their sister's money to bolster up the Wall Street bank they inherited from their father, J. H. and Louis H. Amy petitioned Surrogate Cohalan to release them from the Ludlow street jail. The Amy brothers surrendered to the sheriff on Sunday, going voluntarily to the jail to be locked up when they heard an order had been issued for their incarceration for contempt of court. The contempt charge grew out of their failure to turn over to Mrs. Daragon, their sister, who lives in Paris, about $98,000, representing part of her share in the estate of their father, Henry Amy, founder of the firm of H. Amy & Co. The institution went into the hands of a committee of creditors in March, 1919. In their affidavit the brothers declared they had intended no contempt of the court in failing to obey its order. They called their imprisonment a "very great punishment, the memory of which can never be effaced," and added that they were now so poor they had to depend on relatives for the wherewithal to live from day to day.

NORFOLK, Va., January 27.—The naval fuel ship Arethusa, anchored off Cape Fear with her propeller gone and other mechanical trouble, cannot be towed into Norfolk until the weather moderates, naval officials here say. In all six vessels have been dispatched to the rescue: coast guard cutters Yamacraw and Seminole, destroyer Ingram, command minesweepers Redwing and Sandpiper and fleet tender Carabasset.

ARBuckle CASE NEAR END

Arguments by Attorneys Expected to Begin Today.
SAN FRANCISCO, January 27.—The defense in the second Roscoe Arbuckle manslaughter trial was near the end of its side of the case today. Only part of the testimony of Dr. George Franklin Shields remained to be taken, and counsel had announced they would call no other witnesses. Dr. Shields, who was a major in the Medical Corps in the Spanish-American and world wars, late yesterday said a ruptured bladder, which caused Virginia Rappe's death, might be caused by coughing, sneezing or by immersion in cold water, if the bladder were over-distended. Under cross-examination he admitted he never had heard of a bladder rupture caused by cold water. The prosecution charges Miss Rappe was injured as a result of mistreatment by Arbuckle at a party in his rooms at the St. Francis Hotel last September, and the defense contends the injury was the result of an unhealthy condition. Arguments by attorneys were expected to begin today.
